

About Nancy

Nancy is a communication and leadership facilitator and coach, working with all levels of leaders in individual and team settings to help them understand themselves more deeply and create transformational impact in their personal and professional lives. Facilitating a non-judgmental space of profound trust, Nancy challenges clients to deepen self-awareness, build on their strengths, and explore areas for growth. She believes that when we choose to live fully, with purpose and honor in our values, we will be our full potential and create meaningful results.

Nancy has spent 25+ years elevating the potential of people and their organizations as an instructor, leader, speaker, communicator, facilitator, and coach, internationally. Nancy's business has grown through warm-lead referral. 100% of her business came from warm leads for the first 9.5 years, and more recently shifted to 85% with clients finding her through web searches.

Personal

Nancy is one of the most giving people you will meet. Just a couple of her community efforts include her role in the Jack.Ride for youth mental health developing multiple annual programs for her local food bank, and raising over $100,000 for ovarian cancer research through her Ruthie's Runners initiative.

She is also activity focused. She has run one full marathon, 16 half marathons, and is in constant motion with sports like tennis, golf, pickleball, yoga, skiing, biking and kayaking. She has a side hustle making Hug Blankets, is known for her unique in-house hosting events and is a cold plunger. Her career and her life are driven by her values and she is, above all, committed to providing her two sons the best childhood possible while raising independent, responsible, love-life-moments adults.
